Court Test of Board's Power One Remaining Hurdle, Brennan Says

Journalism Building Faces Last Construction Obstacle, Education Board Member Telegraphs Simmons; Test Case to Be Reviewed by State's Tribunal

The construction of a new journalism building on the state university campus depends on the decision of the state supreme court in the test case which is being brought before it to determine the constitutionality of the statute which granted the State Board of Education power to issue bonds for construction of buildings at the various state schools.

A telegram from Wallace Brennan, member of the board, who has been in Washington for several weeks working on the questions that have been raised by the PWA officials there, to President Simmons yesterday stated that the briefs for the case have left Washington. They have been approved by the PWA officials there and completely cover the questions that are being raised. They are being sent back to Missoula.

Brennan also stated that he is still working on the approval of the bond and bond resolution. He hopes to be able to send them from Washington in a few days. With the briefs back in Missoula the case will be ready for the supreme court. J. C. Garlington, alumni of the law school, is acting as attorney for the plaintiff in the case. Walter Pope, law school professor, will defend the State Board of Education in attempting to prove the constitutionality of the statute which empowered the board to issue the bonds to obtain the proposed loan.

If the power of the board is declared constitutional by the court the PWA will authorize a loan of $180,000 for the construction of the building as soon as allocations are made. The loan is on the B classification, and is approved in every respect but the one soon to be tested.

The general plan is to have one or two short addresses followed by a period of discussion. The group will divide into three or four smaller groups for the discussion, with the speakers acting as resource leaders on questions not settled within the group.

Dr. Harold Tascher, professor in the economics and sociology department, and Rev. O. R. Warford, director of the university school of religion, will talk on the subject, "Does Civilization Still Need Religion?" on March 1. The second forum, March 8, will be conducted by President George Finlay Simmons and Dr. J. W. Severy, who will discuss religion, under the title, "As I See Religion." Their discussion will involve some of the conflicting streams of thought.

The Rev. F. L. Gilson, pastor of the Baptist church, will speak on "Christianity and Other Cultures," on March 15. Dr. D. E. Jackson, of the Presbyterian church, will speak on "Denominationalism—Its Abuses and Its Uses," on March 22. The Rev. M. E. Van de Mark, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, will summarize the series, March 29, under the title, "What's It All About?"

This series of forums was arranged by the Rev. O. R. Warford, student pastor, under the auspices of the public exercises committee, of which Dean R. C. Line is chairman. The meetings will close before 4 o'clock each Sunday in order not to conflict with the regular Sunday afternoon musical concerts.

Dr. Daughters Is Consultant Of Educators

Appointed to Commission Seeking Improvements In United States

Dean Freeman Daughters, head of the education school, has been appointed consultant ex-officio of the Education Policies commission created in December, 1935 by the National Education association and the department of superintendence, Washington, D. C. The commission will operate for a five-year term to draft a long-range program of action for the improvement of American education.

As a consultant, representing this section of the country, Dean Daughters will work with the commission on a variety of matters.

The objectives of the commission are to stimulate thoughtful, realistic, long-term planning within the teaching profession, looking toward continued adaptation of education to social needs; to appraise existing conditions in education critically and to bring about desirable changes in the purposes, procedures and organization of education; to encourage the use of the best practices and procedures of education throughout the country, and to develop understanding and co-operation among all organized groups interested in educational improvement.

The commission aims to arrange conferences with individuals who can speak with authority on the issues before the commission, with chairmen of important deliberative committees and with representatives of important groups within the teaching profession.

Regional meetings will be held and the commission will attempt to keep the profession fully informed as to its purposes, policies and accomplishments through articles in educational journals and by other means.

A headquarters staff is already at work on various projects related to the commission's central purposes. The work is being financed by a grant from the General Education board. Alexander J. Stoddard, superintendent of schools, Providence, Rhode Island, is chairman of the commission.

Prexy Extends Vacation For Two Days, Proposes "Gentlemen's Agreement"

Simmons Asks Students to Return to Classes Wednesday, March 25; "Breathing Spell" for Students, Faculty Meets Approval of Jesse, Swearingen, Speer

Spring vacation will be two days longer than scheduled for this year, according to an announcement made by President George Finlay Simmons yesterday. "There will be two extra holidays at the end of the winter quarter," said President Simmons, "if the students will enter into a gentlemen's agreement with me that they will be in Missoula by Wednesday morning, March 25, and attend all of their classes."

President Simmons said that after consulting Dean R. H. Jesse, Mrs. T. G. Swearingen and Professor J. B. Speer, it was decided that a short "breathing spell" between quarters would be a good thing for both students and professors.

Final examinations for the winter quarter will be concluded on Thursday noon, March 19, and classes will not be resumed until Wednesday morning, March 25, thus enabling students to go home over the week-end if they so desire.

President Simmons wishes to emphasize the fact that he is entering into a "gentlemen's agreement" with the student body and hopes that the students will do their share to uphold the agreement. It is important that students do their part in this trial, he said, since otherwise spring vacation periods will not be lengthened in the future.

University to See New Type of Play In Winter Drama

Montana Masquers' winter quarter production, "The Knight of the Burning Pestle," to be presented Thursday, March 5 will usher in a new type of entertainment to the university campus, according to Bernard Hewitt, director of dramatics.

The gets of the play are composed of a series of steps and platforms. There are 35 scenes, but the setting remains unchanged. Once the curtain is raised it remains raised throughout the performance, the change of scenes being accomplished by the play of lights upon various parts of the set.

The leading roles are taken by Mildred McDonald, Baker, as the citizen's wife; David Vesely, Lewistown, as the citizen; Roger Clapp, Butte, in the title role; Koyne Osborne, Livingston, the hero; Margaret Orahood, Missoula, as the romantic heroine, and Orville Skones, Missoula, as the musical old man.

The play is a burlesque on the romantic tales of chivalry. It opens with the citizen and his wife sitting in the audience complaining because their apprentice has not been given a part in the play. The apprentice is then taken into the cast and Mr. and Mrs. Citizen spend the remainder of the performance on the stage, criticizing the play and adding mirth to the production.

Tickets may be obtained in the A. S. U. M. office in the Student Union building upon presentation of student activity cards. Students are urged to secure tickets as soon as possible. If more than one capacity crowd applies for tickets a second performance will be presented.

The Council Faces a Vote

In an effort to avoid the feeling that the faculty is attempting to push the proposed student-faculty council onto the students against their will, the faculty committee elected to serve on the council has proposed that the plan be submitted to the students for a re-check of the favorable opinion accorded the proposal at a recent convocation.

Obviously the faculty is not interested in the movement because of personal motives; the machinery of the council leaves no room for personal "axe-grinding." The faculty has launched the plan only with high intentions and with a genuine desire to benefit the campus. They have no intention of forcing it upon the students; it must be a co-operative council and without the co-operation and support of the students it will be dropped.

A sizeable majority of the 500 students who attended the convocation at which the plan was presented registered the opinion that the council was worthy of a trial. The expression of opinion was called for at that time because there seemed to be no other means of determining whether or not the students favored the council. Now a more adequate method of checking student opinion has been devised and all students will have the opportunity to register their wishes. It is hoped that when the students vote at registration time they will carefully consider the matter, weigh the arguments pro and con, look for legitimate cause for objection in the opposition's claims and truthfully answer the questions, "What harm can the plan do if enacted?" and "Is there any good it can do?"

Boost Montana

Fourteen years ago the new gymnasium was completed and shortly following its dedication the first program of boxing and wrestling sponsored by the M club was instituted. The gym and the lettermen's big athletic show since have grown into traditions at Montana together—traditional for the ideals of good sportsmanship and clean living inculcated by the physical education and athletic departments at the state university.

Montana is indeed fortunate that it possesses such splendid facilities for the participation in some form of athletics by every student. M club tournament is but one phase of the physical education program, presenting the best talent in the boxing and wrestling classes in fourteen final bouts, victory in each of which determines the university titleholder.

Many student and Missoula sports lovers have indicated their loyalty to the cause of Montana athletics by attending M club tournaments in the past. It is to be hoped that even more may find it possible to be present this year and have the opportunity of witnessing a genuine athletic thriller. Without the support and co-operation of every student, M club tournament can not achieve its goal of contributing funds necessary to promote better teams. Unless every Montana student manifests that support by buying a ticket to Wednesday's event, he has no right to complain about losing teams. Making a success of Grizzly athletics isn't one man's work—it's ours. Boost Montana and treat yourself to a big evening by going.

Spring Football Gets Underway This Afternoon

Workouts Will Be Held Daily at 4 O'clock; Practices to Be On Basketball Court

Plans for spring football practice will be discussed this afternoon at 4 o'clock when all men interested in playing will meet at the men's gymnasium. Many footballers have been working out for the last two months but this meeting will start the regular organized spring session.

Workouts will be held daily at 4 o'clock and if the turnout is as large as Coach Douglas A. Fessenden believes, the squad will be divided into two parts, each of which will work out on alternate days until approximately 5:30 o'clock.

Until weather conditions are favorable the practices will be held on the basketball court. The time will be spent on footwork, rhythmic shifting, formations and signals. With the exception of dummy contact work, no bodily contact will take place.

Montana's heavy 1936 schedule, with games arranged with Washington State college, University of California at Los Angeles, Gonzaga, Idaho, Montana State college, Oregon State college and the University of San Francisco, necessitates an intensive spring practice, which Fessenden announces as "our only chance to meet the teams we are playing on an equal basis."

A ROUNDER and ABOUT

When amateurs chew
Their initial quid
It's something they wish
They hadn't did.

And for the frosh women for whom Co-ed is a new experience, it is in keeping with the best Montana customs for the female, as well as buying the ticket, corsage, food, taxi and cigarettes, to administer the good-night kiss and hang her pin.

'Twas THE EVENING OF CO-ED

'Twas the evening of Co-ed
And all through the frat
Fully-dressed gentlemen
Just waited and sat.

They sat and they fretted
They fumed and they fussed
They bragged of the dates
Whom they silently cursed.

At last came the Co-eds
And each had to wait
In the time-honored manner
Of men with a date.

Some came in boldly
Some timid and shy
While some looked like Mounties
Who'd gotten their guy.

When the last man had left
In a state of collapse
The house was as silent

As a camp after taps.

But not! From the basement
With crestfallen pan
Creeps the campus Pariah
The Forgotten Man.—P. C., '33.

Excess of Acidity of Other Popular Brands Over Lucky Strike Cigarettes

Recent chemical tests show* that other popular brands have an excess of acidity over Lucky Strike of from 53% to 100%.

*RESULTS VERIFIED BY INDEPENDENT CHEMICAL LABORATORIES AND RESEARCH GROUPS . . .

Over a period of years, certain basic advances have been made in the selection and treatment of cigarette tobaccos for Lucky Strike Cigarettes.

They include preliminary analyses of the tobaccos selected; use of center leaves; the higher heat treatment of tobacco ("toasting"); consideration of acid-alkaline balance, with consequent definite improvement in flavor; and controlled uniformity in the finished product.

All these combine to produce a superior cigarette—a modern cigarette, a cigarette made of rich, ripe-bodied tobaccos—A Light Smoke.

Grizzlies Drop Last Home Tilt To Gonzagans

Bulldogs Overcome 9-Point Lead to Triumph Over Montana

Fighting furiously to hold a nine-point lead in the last half, the Grizzlies were unable to keep pace with the brilliant marksmanship of Van Voorhis and Flajole and lost their second game to Gonzaga Wednesday night in the university gym by a score of 57-52. The score was tied twice during the last three minutes of play before Charles Flajole converted five points in the closing seconds.

Montana's fierce attack was led by Paul Chumrau, stellar Grizzly guard, who repeatedly hooped in dazzling one-hand shots from midfloor, and "Chaw" Miller, who hit the nets consistently. Brass was high-point man with 19 points. Chumrau followed closely with 17.

Leonard and Brass started the scoring for Gonzaga, and Glover and Chumrau connected from mid-floor. Van Voorhis slipped in a sleeper and Miller matched it with a long one-handed shot. Chumrau pushed in his own rebound to score, then Brass and Yandle swished two long ones. Chumrau hooped another long one and Seigle dribbled in for a setup, followed with another by Yandle and a long one by Chumrau. Miller connected on a running shot and Brass converted on a twist shot from the hole, following it with a basket shot in the free-throw lane and a closeup. Chumrau swished from the side and Seigle pushed in a rebound. Yandle and Miller matched long ones and Brass connected a free throw. Brass hooped on a running shot and Blastic dribbled in for a setup to end the first half. Montana led 26-23.

Brass connected a long one and a free throw to start the scoring in the second half. Chumrau connected from the side and Glover ran in the hole to score. Brass pushed a rebound in. Seigle dribbled in from the side and again Brass tipped a rebound in. Miller connected a long one-handed shot and Chumrau hooped from the hole. Miller sneaked under the basket to score and Blastic scored on a running underhand shot. Seigle dribbled in to score and Van Voorhis connected a long one and two free throws. Chumrau swished another long one and Flajole matched it from the side. Yandle scored a short one to tie the score and Brass dribbled in to give Gonzaga the lead for the first time since the opening of the game. Keithley followed a free throw rebound to tie the score again, and Blastic scored to give

And now we come to one of modern life's most gracious privileges—dining at Keen's English Chop House in New York...famous gathering place of those who enjoy good living. "We've noticed that patrons who appreciate fine foods also appreciate fine tobaccos," says William, of Keen's. "Camels are a favorite here. We've noticed that our guests who smoke Camels during and after meals seem to find more pleasure in dining."

IRON MAN. Murray Murdock (in center), of the N. Y. Rangers, has played over 500 straight hockey games. "I often have to eat and run," Murray says. "Camels help me to digest my food."

JUNGLE BOUND! "I smoke Camels for digestion's sake," says Frank Buck, famous wild animal collector. "Camels for flavor!" he says. "They are rich and mellow, yet delicately mild."

Preliminaries In Tournament Nearing Finish

Dolan, Leithead, Yates Go
Into M Club Wrestling
Matches Wednesday

Eliminations are nearing the final stage for the fourteenth annual M club tournament. Four bouts Friday will determine the boxing entrants in the annual wrestling and fistic show. The wrestling participants have already been determined.

Four boxing and three wrestling matches took place last Wednesday. In the first boxing bout Randall Jarvis, Stevensville, showed superior skill and conditioning in pounding out a decision over Bill Hollow, Helena. Jarvis used a wicked left jab to keep his opponent off balance and crashed over devastating rights to win the fight by a big margin.

The important factor of experience again proved decisive in the second bout between Clint McCauley, Miles City, and Bud Struble, Missoula. Struble outweighed his opponent many pounds, and used his weight to advantage in the first minute of the opener, storming all over his opponent. McCauley weathered the attack, and in the latter part of the round sank a vicious left hook to Struble's mid-section. In the second round McCauley again drove a punch to the solar-plexus and coasted for the rest of the round to win an easy decision. Ernie Reed, Missoula, won a decision from Bert Smallwood, Columbia, in a savage fight that had the fans on edge for the greater part of the two rounds. In the first round, Smallwood used an overhand right to the chin effectively to keep Reed on the defensive. Toward the end of the round, Reed opened up with numerous body punches to earn a draw. In the second round Reed again started throwing gloves at the start and did not stop until the end of the round to win the decision.

Bill Blankenship, Missoula, won the closing bout of Wednesday's card by pounding out a well earned decision over Jere Donohue, also from Missoula. Blankenship hit harder and more often to take the decision.

In the wrestling eliminations, Horace Leithead, Manderson, Wyoming, won from R. Scott, Missoula, in 14 minutes. Jennings Lieglund, Great Falls, lost an eight minute decision to J. Dolan, and Leland Yates, Victor, won from Merlin Young, Somers, in 4 minutes and 20 seconds.

Phi Delt's Win Interfraternity Championship

Victors Undefeated During Season; Phi Sigs
Are Second

Phi Delta Theta, concluding an undefeated season, annexed the Interfraternity basketball championship with a 21-16 victory over the Independents Tuesday night.

The Phi Delt's jumped into an early lead as Dion and Crowley hit the nets for frequent tallies. The Independents, presenting a strong squad but lacking the polished team-work of the winners, came back strong in the second half with a barrage of baskets which tied the score at 16 all. The Phi Delt attack proved too strong for the Barbs, however, as consistent checking the losers from scoring territory and timely baskets broke the tie and added to the lead. The basketball race was the only Interfraternity sport in which any team has been undefeated thus far this season, the Phi Delt's finishing with a clean slate of eight victories.

In the other game Tuesday night, Phi Sigma Kappa clinched second place in the league with a 48-7 victory from Sigma Alpha Epsilon. The Phi Sigs were defeated only once during the season, dropping their game to the Phi Delt's by a 24-18 count. Sigma Chi finished in third place with six victories and two defeats.
